INSTITUTIONAL REPOSITORIES:

THE GREAT DEBATE

What is an institutional repository? How do topics like scholarly communication, copyright, institutional memory, digital libraries, metadata, intellectual property, research impact, digital preservation, and Open Archives Initiative Protocol for Metadata Harvesting (OAI-PMH) fit in the concept and implementation of an institutional repository?

In the spirit of classical oration and political debate Dr. Helen Tibbo and Kevin Smith, MLS, J.D. will square off on these topics with a duel of dialog.

Please join us for FREE food & debate

THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 2008

Carolina Digital Library & Archives (CDLA) Facilities
1st Floor of Wilson Library, UNC Chapel Hill
http://www.lib.unc.edu/wilson/directions.html

6:00 PM Dinner from Mediterranean Deli
6:30 PM Debate & Discussion

Please RSVP to rclemens@unc.edu by April 16

Kevin L. Smith is the Scholarly Communications Officer at Duke University providing consultation on copyright, scholarly publishing and licensing issues. He serves on the faculty of ARL’s Institute on Scholarly Communications and ALA’s Committee on Legislation Subcommittee on Intellectual Property. His highly-regarded blog on scholarly communications is at http://library.duke.edu/blogs/scholcomm

Dr. Helen Tibbo is professor in the School of Information & Library Science at the University of North Carolina. Her current research is in digital curation, digital preservation and curriculum development in this emerging field. She chairs the Digital Curation – Institutional Repository Committee charged by the Chancellor with developing a plan and prototype for the Institutional Repository at UNC.