The NCSU Libraries Fellows Program is a launching pad for your career in academic libraries, offering new librarians rapid professional growth and leadership experience. Fellows work half-time in a home department to develop expertise in a functional area of academic librarianship. Their remaining time is devoted to an innovative project of strategic importance to the organization.

BENEFITS
- $63,000/year salary, plus benefits package
- Up to $2,500/year stipend for professional development
- Two-year appointment at the faculty rank of librarian

ELIGIBILITY
- ALA-accredited M.L.S. or M.I.S. degree awarded up to 12 months before appointment (e.g., for July 1, 2017 start date, degree should be awarded between July 2016 – June 2017).
- Demonstrated potential to develop expertise in science or engineering librarianship, in current and emerging digital technologies, or in management and administration of academic libraries
- Demonstrated understanding of the educational mission of a research university and its role in valuing and nurturing demographic and intellectual diversity

LEARN MORE

PROGRAM INFORMATION SESSION
Thursday, December 1st,
Presentation begins at 4:30pm
James E. Shepard Memorial Library, 3rd floor, Room 339

Presenters:
Lisa Ruth, Associate Head for Recruiting and Visitor Relations (Former Fellow)
Andreas Orphanides, Associate Head, User Experience (Former Fellow)

For more information visit http://go.ncsu.edu/fellows